Capt. Joseph Brant wampum belt.
18; (Top belt in photograph.) A letter at the Museum of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin from the collector notes belt was dated 1750 and each open square signifies a nation and the white line a strong and enduring alliance (possibly between British and Iroquois). Records at Museum of American Indian/Heye Foundation, however, note that white stripe represents Brant's 1775 trip to England--one square is Britain, the other is Brant's homeland. 22 3/4 in. X 3 1/4 in. (11 rows). [For other belt in photograph, see Wampum No. 112.] Photograph courtesy of Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation, New York, N.Y., Specimen No. 3/1900. Reel: 50
The Governor Denny wampum belt, 1756.
23; According to records at the Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation, "It represents Gov. Denny and an Indian at the time when Gov. Denny invited all the Indians to come from the Ohio to Philadelphia, saying, 'I have laid a nice smooth road for you and want all to come who can.'" The scholar W.M. Beauchamp believed it hardly possible that an invitation belt would have survived so long. His opinion was that it is more likely that the belt was preserved because the figures represent a covenant.

Reel: 50

Gyantwaka Treaty wampum belt.
10; Fragment of belt given to Cornplanter (Gyantwaka) when treaty establishing the Complanter reservation was signed.
